

IMMIGRATION LAW SERVICES

SERVICES INCLUDE (but are not limited to)

- help in obtaining or maintaining status in Canada
- provide assistance with some immigration and citizenship matters including: family sponsorship, humanitarian applications, criminal inadmissibility, pre-removal risk assessments, and migrant work.
- we generally do not handle refugee claims or economic applications, but can offer summary advice for those who qualify.
- due to financial eligibility thresholds, we also cannot assist with parental sponsorship.

DETAILS OF SERVICES

- Family sponsorship: we can help you bring your spouse or children to Canada from abroad, or to apply to allow them to stay if they are already here
- Humanitarian and compassionate applications (H&Cs): if you are out of status or hold temporary status, but have a significant humanitarian and compassionate reason why you need to stay in Canada, we may be able to help
- Pre-Removal Risk Assessments (PRRAs): if you are facing imminent removal from Canada to a country in which there is a risk of persecution, torture, or death, we may be able to help you apply for protection
- Criminal admissibility: if you have been charged or convicted of any crimes in Canada or abroad and need information on how that might affect your status or your ability to sponsor, we can advise you
- Migrant workers: if you are working in Canada and are facing mistreatment or abuse by your employer, we can help you apply for an open work permit
